The Soviet airfield at Kluczewo is located five km south of Stargard, bordering the Stargard-Pyrzyce railroad. About 1,500 meters to the south is a cement landing strip, part of a former German field. About five km west of Kluczewo is Zalewe Lake (Madusee). The field dimensions are 1,200 x 1,000 and the surface is grass. There are four hangars north of the field, to the north-west of which is a wooded section used as a dispersal area. The Kluczewo railroad station is located north of the field. To the south and west are plowed fields and the railroad passes to the east. A group of Soviet fighters is stationed at the field.
